Will Build Giant Airships

Contract Placed by British Government For Ship That Will Cross Atlantic in Two Days

Contracts for construction of an airship to take the site of the Los Angeles and capable of crossing the Atlantic from London to New York in two days, have been placed by the British government.

Vickers, Ltd., the company which makes all sorts of war materials and other things, will build the ship.

Mr. Street Dawson, vice-chairman of the company's directors, has announced: "Commercial success depends on the development of adequate means," Mr. Street said.

We hope to obtain engines that will permit people even to visit the United States for the weekend. When we complete the ship we expect to be able to fly the westward journey in two days and to make even better time eastward.

The ship will be built at Howden, where the ZR-2 was built. The ZR-2 started and fell into the River Humber, in flames during the last aerial flight, before she was to have started on the Atlantic for delivery to the United States.

Most of the United British and Colonial States were in the line of the wreckage of their craft.

Investigation later disclosed structural faults which caused the collapse.

"She was built to remain on the ground," one scientist said, "and not to fly."

No Argument Allowed

Chicago Couple Must Talk on Alternate Days Says Judge

A Chicago couple went before a wise judge. He found that their arguments were constantly getting into trouble, so he decreed that they should talk on alternate days, and there were to be no interruptions. The wife is to do all the talking on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and the husband all the talking on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Neither one is to argue on Sunday.

This schedule, if lived up to, should put an end to peace-disturbing arguments. The judge said that a wife judge will find a remedy for family troubles which reveal themselves in the refusal of either husband or wife to speak to each other, but this would seem to be a more difficult task—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

Menonites Will Inspect Western Land

Temporarily Settled in East Are Planning Permanent Home

The Russian Menonites, who recently settled temporarily in Waterloo, Ont., are already planning for their permanent home. After having had several talks suggested to them in Western Canada by David Towns of Edmonton, Sec. Gen. for the Western committee, they have decided to make a personal inspection of them. One tract under consideration is that located recently by the Menonites who went to Mexico while the Canadian Pacific Railway has offered several sites, one between Edmonton and another in Manitoba.

Safety First Measures

Chicago to Train Children to Avoid Street Accidents

"How to cross a boulevard safely" will be part of the study of Chicago's twentieth century youth, according to plans formulated by Mayor Dewey's safety council, which is combating the city's mounting death rate from automobile accidents. It is proposed to institute a daily school study period devoted to "teaching the youngsters the value of 'safety first' in negotiating the perilous highways of the city."

Seeks Records of Ancient Race

Dr. Gann, archaeologist, and expert on the Mayan civilization of Honduras and Yucatan, is on his way to Jamaica, whence he will go to British Honduras to explore the ruins of the ancient Mayan City which he and a number of companions discovered early this year. Dr. Gann plans to visit Inceh on his or painted pottery, a date prior to 63 B.C., the earliest Mayan date at present known.

Fall Irrigation

More attention was paid this year to fall irrigation in Alberta than ever before, and farmers looked ahead in preparation for next year's crop. It has been repeatedly demonstrated that fall irrigation practically means a crop the following season, the reservoir of moisture lying on the crop over the critical period of germination.

Gold probably was the first metal to be employed by man; it was used for ornaments before any other metal was discovered.

Few Socialists in Britain

Mr. William Jayman-Hicks Says Socialism Not the Party of the Working Man

Presiding at a meeting of the Prime Minister's League in London, Mr. William Jayman-Hicks, the new home secretary, did not believe for a moment that there were many socialists in Great Britain today and expressed the opinion that more than 5,000,000 people had voted thus in the recent general election, had done so if they wanted to vote for candidates of their own class without regard to social class.

The Conservative party in the next few years Sir William said, should adopt the words of Lord Baconfield, "whereof, whereof, whereof" it got the people to realize that the Socialist party was not really the Labor party, nor the party of the working man. They must get the working man to realize that the Socialist party was quite distinct from the Labor party and the interests of social reform.

Queen Mary Never Idle

Spends Much Time Looking After Servants' Comforts

Queen Mary is no less busy than her son. There is a saying in Buckingham Palace, "Five shillings for anyone who can find the Queen doing nothing." In this way the household staff express their confidence in her inability to be idle. Much of the Queen's time is spent in the staff quarters, where she supervises all the arrangements made for the comfort of the domestics and attendants, nearly every one of which they participate in order to satisfy herself as to its quality and quantity.

Selling Goods At Wembley

Big Bargain Sale After All Exhibits Are Dismantled

The greatest bargain sale in the world will take place in December when the British Empire Exhibition at Wembley closes down. The display ended November 1, and immediately after that date thousands of workmen took charge and proceeded with their task of dismantling the exhibits. When the show closes, the exhibition will open the exhibition next year and there will be between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000 worth of goods to be sold.

Monks At Oxford

Will Celebrate 700th Anniversary Of Arrival of Franciscan Friars

The 700th anniversary of the arrival of the Franciscan Friars in Oxford will be observed by monks at that ancient city. A pontifical high mass will be celebrated at the Church of St. Mary on the site of the ancient friary. Because of the close connection between the Friars and the University and City of Oxford in medieval days, the Lord Mayor and the Vice-Chancellor will take part in the celebrations.

From Africa to Toronto via Dublin

A lion and a lioness destined for the Toronto Zoo emitted no roars of protest as they were placed with their travelling cases of oak and iron aboard a Dominion Express car at the Canadian Pacific Windsor Station, Montreal, recently. The male of the species was born in South Africa about three years ago, while the female first saw the light of day about the same time in the Royal Zoological Gardens, Dublin, Ireland, from whence they have both come, a present to the Toronto Parks Commission. The Toronto Parks Commission will shortly send a pair of deers to Dublin in reciprocation.

Canada A Desirable Country

Most Attractive Place For British Emigrants Says Gen. Booth

Canada stands out among the dominions as the most attractive for the British emigrant, in the opinion of General Trevellick Booth, head of the Salvation Army, who has returned to London on the conclusion of a tour of Canada. The exchange from the miseries of unemployment or precarious employment in this country to a condition of having enough and some to spare, he said, was indeed a happy one. He confirmed the view, which he expressed some time ago, that all of the parts of the British empire open to emigrants of the Old Land, Canada was the most promising to the newcomer. The general added that he was quite satisfied with his trip to the dominion and that the Salvation Army was being sent from coast to coast.

Making Cream Of Tarr

Deposit of Grapes Furnishes Material For Well-Known Product

Grapes of Canada are not seldom broken together in the minds of the public, but in reality they are not. During the process of making wine from grapes a certain substance is deposited on the inside of the wooden vats in which the expressed juice is placed for curing. When the process is complete and the liquid is removed, the argols or reddish crust are removed and purified. The final product is the white powder commonly called cream of tartar. The quality varies with the grapes used and the extent to which the argols are purified.

The Greatest Teacher

Real Education Can Only Be Obtained Through Experience

Most Americans get their schooling between the ages of six and sixteen, says Prof. Dallas L. Sharp of Boston University. That is true, but most of us do not begin to get our real education until we leave school. Experience remains the greatest teacher. When a school graduate strikes out in the world for himself, one of the first things he has to do is to learn much of what he has been taught. The education that takes most time to get out of the head is youth's inflated conception of the possibilities of success—Ranger Commercial.

Willing to Oblige

A clergyman chose for his text the following verse: "Which of you will go up with me to Kanahel Gilead?" Then, pausing, he again and again repeated the words. At last a sailor started from his seat and, looking around with eyes full of indignation, exclaimed: "Will none of you go with the gentleman? I take him, I'll go myself."

Brown Favorite Color

Despite desperate efforts on the part of the dressmakers, brown and not green will be the predominant color worn by young ladies season. The defeat of green may be attributed to the superstition that it is unlucky. Even the disciples of fashion could not overcome that.

An franchise bridegroom of 63, married twice before, went to the vestry to sign the register. After several fruitless attempts to make a mark on the paper, he turned to the clergyman and said: "This is the second or third time you've placed me this trick! Next time I shall bring my own pen."

If you haven't any enemies to forgive, you have a lot of friends to forgive.

Entailed Bedsteads

Many People in England Still Observe Old Custom

One conspicuous clause in Shakespeare's will provides that his bedstead was to have the second best bedstead in the home, and that clause has been the subject of much discussion, many wondering why he should choose to give for the second best bed and for whom the best was held. The London Post makes the explanation that the best bedstead in the home of the entailed, the possessor having only a life use of it, after which it must pass on to the next in line, and points out that Anne Hathaway's bedstead remains to this day in the home where she used it, having passed with the house, succeeding generations—Ohio State Journal.

Making Paint From Mummies

Wonderful Rich Brown Color Is Admired By Artists

Mummies, the older the better, are said to make the finest of brown paints. The only trouble is there are not enough mummies. The paint is made by grinding the bones of mummies with the pigment with which they were embalmed. Besides its wonderful rich color, the paint has the advantage of being perfectly permanent, and for these reasons it is in great demand among the artists, especially portrait painters whose subjects have been laid. Only those of between 2,000 to 2,500 years of age will produce the beautiful brown—paint so loved by artists. It was during that period that the art of embalming was at its best.

Small Electric Lamp

Designed For Hospital Work Is Quarter-Inch In Diameter

The smallest electric lamp in the world is about one-quarter of an inch in diameter. It is a quarter of an inch in diameter about the size of a grain of rice, and is now designed for use in hospitals and by doctors. A lamp of this type was recently used by a doctor when he withdrew a tack from the back of an eight-month-old baby. The tack is inserted at the end of the silver tube about the size of an ordinary lead pencil, which is the tube is inserted down the child's throat and gave enough light for the doctor to locate the tack.

When Elephants Go Mad

Fit Soon Passes But Animal Is Usually Shot

Elephants are said to be related with mad people, in which they do not stop short of murder. It is not known why, but the elephant is mad. Wild elephants often invade villages at night and terrorize the inhabitants. Within these years, Monks, the wild of the West African continent, have suffered from these incursions. When the wild elephants come to town the terrified inhabitants take to the hills and allow their unprovoked visitors free play.

Two Races In Belgium

Speak Different Language But Always Stand Together

Belgium is made up of two distinct races, the Flemish and the Walloons. The people are equally divided, speaking a language as widely different as English is from Spanish. But though their languages are so different, the Belgians make up a sort of house divided against itself, politically and religiously; they constitute as staunch a national unity as does French-German Switzerland. They have stood together through the centuries under various rulers.

Model Conviction

Institution in Switzerland Has Become Practically Self-Supporting

One of the most up-to-date penitentiaries in the world is to be found in Switzerland. The old idea of the confinement is eliminated altogether and the institution is practically self-supporting. Within 30 years an uncultivated stretch of marshland and a quarry has been turned into a flourishing farm of 2,500 acres, solely by the work of convicts.

"Gentlemen of the jury," said a blundering counsel, in a suit about a lot of logs, "they were just 36 logs in that drove; please to remember that fact—36 logs—just exactly three dozen logs—as there are in the jury box, gentlemen." The counsel did not gain his case.

"Is Mrs. Elise at home?" inquired Mr. Chatters, standing in the shadow of the doorway.

"I don't know, m'am," the new maid said. "I can't tell till I get a letter from her. If you've got a wart on the side of your nose, m'am, she's out."

Giving a hungry man advice as about as charitable as feeding him is to kill him.

Dairy Industry Flourishes

Northern Saskatchewan Dairy Farmers Do Big Business

William Leeson, of St. Walburg, Sask., is his way east to purchase fine cattle, about 240 head, of dairy cattle for the dairy farmers of the St. Walburg district.

Most of the animals purchased will be Arrivables of high quality. Cash will be paid for all the animals.

Five years ago Mr. Leeson was induced by the Canadian National Railways colonization department to establish a creamery in the St. Walburg district, in sales north of North Battleford. He now has three creameries with a total output of 600,000 pounds of creamery butter this year, all of which has been sold for export to Great Britain.

Surplus Of Buffalo

Both Canada and U.S. Have New Excess of These Animals

It looks as if the buffalo had really ceased to be threatened with extinction. Not long ago the Canadian Government sold its surplus of the animal to the United States. Some of the animals were sold to the American Department of the Interior, and some to the Yellowstone National Park. It is overstocked with the animal. Some of the surplus have resulted in a flood of applications to the Washington government to buy the surplus. Some of the applicants obviously have but a hazy notion of the kind of beast they are dealing with. Several children have applied for "little ones" to pet. A Colorado man ordered two truck loads, and another, in Iowa, wrote saying: "I would like to have one of these animals that you are giving away. What and how old do you want?" The man in Georgia wanted one to give to his daughter, a rich girl. Some of the applicants desired a couple of buffaloes, "gentle enough to hitch in the front yard."—Manchester Guardian.

Old Clock Found Embedded in Coal

Cookstown Man Refuses $250 For Ancient Timepiece

It is Leeson, Cookstown, Ont., about a month ago, ordered some coal to set off his winter stock, and in searching back the haul about noticed a lump of coal which was different from the rest. (Gathering it up, the purchaser was about to throw it into the grate to start a fire when a cord protruding from the lump caught his attention. Loosening the lump, he found a wooden clock which had been finally embedded in the coal. The clock stands about 14 inches high, and the face is made of cherry wood, and the hands are of brass. The face, which is carved, bears the inscription, "Columbus, Anno 1492." It is considered to be an excellent indication of a high level of craftsmanship to 1670, and Mr. Leeson has refused $250 for it.

Prince Kept Himself Informed

Received Two Cables Daily While On His Holiday

The Prince of Wales, wherever he may happen to be, makes a point of knowing all that there is to know about what is happening at home. When he was in London, he received a cable twice daily, and knew all about the election before breakfast on the morning following the defeat of the government. His Royal Highness confessed to having been affected by what he termed "that American fever." Although he has always been accused to cruminate two days' work into one, it took him a few days to get used to the boisterous rapidly with which one's future followed another.

Canadian Wheat Yield

According to the latest statement of the Canadian wheat yield last year, appearing in the Winnipeg Free Press, the total production of marketable wheat in 1916 was 42,025,513 bushels. Of this amount Alberta produced 13,424,350 bushels; Saskatchewan, 27,669,510; and Manitoba, 1,631,653.

Would Train Young Farmers

Providing that some way could be found towards financing the cost of transportation, the National Army was prepared to establish schools in Canada where young men would be taught the young generation of immigrants from the British Isles, General Bramwell Booth, head of the army, stated in Winnipeg.

Doing Well

"Boy, that's quite a good-looking car you have there. What's the most you ever got out of it?"

"Six times in one mile."

Science Scores New Triumph Which May Ultimately Have Far Reaching Possibilities

Taking another lesson from nature, science has scored a new triumph which may result in the making of the world's food supply, if the human race should ever become so numerous as to cover all the earth's land area and leave no room for agriculture.

Addressing a meeting of American chemists at Columbia University, Prof. E. C. C. Baly, senior professor of chemistry in the University of Liverpool, told of his success in making sugar by a process similar to that employed by the green leaves of plants.

He told that he had duplicated nature by making formic acid from carbon dioxide and water, and from this formic acid, with the aid of very violet light, he produced sugar.

For centuries men have watched living plants prepare sugar from the carbonic acid of the air and water of the soil by the aid of sunlight. The wonder at this transformation was only increased when chemists showed that sugar consisted of nothing but ordinary black carbon and water. But in this case it was a long step before analysis of sugar showed its composition, and it is only now that their efforts are beginning to bear fruit.

Prof. Baly's discovery is said to rival the great modern achievements of chemistry. It may be the beginning of developments which may result in the manufacture of the world's food supply, should the increase of the human race ever make agriculture impossible. At that time the world would consist of nothing but factories, instead of the products of the fields, if it becomes possible to develop Prof. Baly's discovery to the fullest extent.

"So far as we are able to tell at this time," Prof. Baly said in his address, "we seem to be on the verge of finding out how sunlight changes inorganic matter into food elements in plants. We have not created the whole of the great secret from nature, but perhaps we never will, but our experience tends to indicate that we have approached it."

For Drying Grain

Invention May Help Farmers in England and Drip Weather.

An invention to be patented by the Institute of Agricultural Engineers at Oxford University, which it develops will remove one of the chief causes for grubbing on the part of British farmers and revolutionize English harvesting methods.

The invention is a new process for drying farm crops, a very necessary thing in the damp English climate. The plan is to cut the crop and make it into circular stacks of from 10 to 20 tons weight around a hollow central chamber. The wind will then be blown over it by powerful fans. Haystacks have been dried by this means in ten hours without fermentation.

Increase in Agriculture

Acres Under Cultivation in 1924 Exceeds Previous Year.

It is estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics that more than 5,600,000 acres were devoted to field crops in Canada in 1924, as compared with 5,510,000 acres in 1923. Wheat occupied 2,550,658 acres, a decrease of 167,206 acres from last year. There were 14,480,548 acres of oats sown, a slight increase over last year.

The number of horses in Canada increased in 1924 by over 100,000, there being 5,514,233 horses classed as farm livestock. The cattle population of Canada (exclusive of British Columbia) is 5,198,714.

Ed. Howe On Advertising

Advertising is the most interesting reading in the newspapers. You advertising men have a lot to say about appealing to women—that they are the buyers. They do the buying—too much sometimes. If you show how much trouble you cause us as farm people with that appeal to the women you would go easier.—E. W. Howe's Monthly.

Could Use Their Inventions

If there should come another war, the common people should demand that it be fought out by the gentleman who are inventing all the deadly war engines we read about.—Colin's Record.

High Wheat Yields

The Lacombe experimental station reports a yield of forty bushels per acre on a thirty-five-acre field of barley. The highest yield was twenty-two bushels per acre.

The Success Of Patient Effort

Value of a Citizen Who Would Establish a Permanent Home in the Country.

Boosting and optimism are excellent things; they quicken development, but they are usually unnecessary by a desire to "make it quick" and to move on to the next field which promises easy money. It is in the long run to appeal to a genuine sporting instinct, rather than to the gambling instinct. The Saskatchewan Government has wisely adopted this policy. It was decided to award three special prizes of $1 each, a dollar to give young contestants a fair chance.

The results are as follows:

First prize, $4.—Olive Currie (age 14), Vonda, Saskatchewan. Second prize, $2.—Elmer H. Peterson (age 15), Conroy, Alberta. Third prize, $2.—Annie Pech (age 12), Newton, Manitoba. Fourth prize, $1.—Mayle D. Behne (age 15), Abernethy, Saskatchewan.

Special prize of $1 to contestants of five years and under:

Andrey Armstrong (age 10), Olds, Alberta; Frank P. Horvick (age 10), Vonda, Saskatchewan; Tony W. Weller (age 10), Vonda, Saskatchewan; Lerger (age 8), Tramp Lake, Saskatchewan.

First prize, $2.50.—Lillian Sanderson (age 13), Olds, Saskatchewan. Second prize, $1.50.—Lillian Sanderson (age 13), Olds, Saskatchewan. Third prize, $1.00.—Julia Smith (age 12), Tramp Lake, Saskatchewan.

Publicity For Saskatchewan

Special Issue of the London Empire Mail Devoted to Canadian.

A section of 11 pages of the special Canadian issue of the Empire Mail, published in London, England, is devoted to Saskatchewan.

It is profusely illustrated with photographs, including pictures of the first government buildings on Broadway Street, the present parliament buildings, a herd of Herefords on the Massey ranch north of Swift current, Saskatchewan's exhibit at the Royal Agricultural Show in Leicester.

Among the articles are one by Lord Dufferin, Governor General, "The Empire's Grains," Premier Dunning on "Saskatchewan's Phenomenal Advance," Hon. C. M. Haultain, "Agricultural Statistics," Hon. J. Latta on "Education in Saskatchewan," Hon. J. M. Christie on "The Western Prairie," Hon. J. G. Gardiner on "Highways in Saskatchewan."

Losses Were Heavy

Large Proportion in World War Felt To Newfoundland.

In looking through the statistics of the Great War it was surprised to find that out of a total of 5,046 thousands killed, 1,203 were killed and 2,314 wounded, making 3,517 casualties in all. No other country has suffered such a large proportion of losses. Like the United States, Newfoundland's share of the war was the heaviest.

Expense of the Canal Trip

Sending a ship through the Panama Canal is a costly operation, though, no doubt, it is the only way of making the voyage around the Horn. The British warship Hood went through the canal last year. The cost of the trip was $2,290.50 in tolls. The Hood is the largest vessel that has so far used the canal—Outlook.

COUPLE PLAN LIFE SETTLEMENT IN TIBET

Missionaries Will Make Long Trek To Lonely Mountain Post On Chinese Border

If you were a young woman twenty-five, and had a well paying position as a school teacher in Chicago, would you marry a prospective missionary and plan to accompany him on a trip which will entail a eight hundred-mile ride on horseback and end at a point on the China-Tibet border where the nearest supply of kerosene is two weeks' journey distant?

Or, on the other hand, if you were a young man of twenty-eight, born and raised in Chicago, and had a lucrative job with the Armour Grain Company, would you leave it, put up $2,500 of your own money for supplies and transportation costs, and set off to spend the rest of your life as a missionary in a mountainous country as cold, as desolate, as primitive as that which Kipling described in "The Man Who Would Be King?"

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Holland, of Chicago, have answered these questions in the affirmative. They sailed from Vancouver, B.C., October 23, on the Empress of Russia, for Shanghai. From Shanghai they will travel by way of river steamer, their ultimate destination being Tiao, in the Kansu province. Part of the journey from Hankow can be made on ponies. They must also transport about 2,500 pounds of supplies on pack ponies, and have heavy clothes and blankets and so on. They expect to arrive in Tiao about Christmas.

After they have passed the period of probation they will receive $400 a year from the Christian and Mis-

Farm Garden Essays

Bank of Commerce Company Had Many Entries

The number of essays received from boys and girls reached the large total of 292. They came from all parts of the prairie provinces, the Saskatchewan contribution being easily the largest.

In the final placing, the judges were assisted by Mr. F. W. Hedberg, professor of horticulture at the Manitoba Agricultural College. As the number of essays received so largely exceeded the number of prizes, it was decided to award three special prizes of $1 each, a dollar to give young contestants a fair chance.

The results are as follows: First prize, $4.—Olive Currie (age 14), Vonda, Saskatchewan. Second prize, $2.—Elmer H. Peterson (age 15), Conroy, Alberta. Third prize, $2.—Annie Pech (age 12), Newton, Manitoba. Fourth prize, $1.—Mayle D. Behne (age 15), Abernethy, Saskatchewan.

Cause Of Unusual Weather

Huge Ring Around the Sun May Have Effect on Climate

Unusual weather conditions in all parts of the world during the last few months, especially marked by a late spring and early autumn, have given rise to the question whether the climate is affected by a vast 100-million-mile ring of matter observed about the sun.

This faint, cone-shaped belt of light stretching up from the western horizon has been visible in clear skies for some months during the spring, and after sunset during autumn, according to Siriven Bunt, F.R.A.S., in the December number of Popular Science Monthly. It is known to astronomers as the Zöllner Light. They explain it by saying that the sun is circled by a huge flat ring of matter somewhat like the rings of Saturn, and extending into space for more than 100 million miles, far beyond the orbit of Neptune.

Its position as seen from the earth is always elevated, hence its cone-shaped appearance. The great ring is composed of a huge conglomerate of minute solid particles, or meteoric bodies, having long lifetimes, and shining by reflected sunlight. Like the earth, each particle moves in its own elliptical orbit around the sun.

It is estimated that the total mass of the ring is about 100 million tons. Born, to Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Thyness, of Oyen, on Wednesday, November 12, a daughter.

Born, to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson, of Oyen, on November 14, at Oyen hospital, a daughter.

Harry Lamont, who has been a business visitor in Calgary, returned to Oyen on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Miller and family moved into the Marshall residence on Second Avenue last Saturday.

Dr. G. A. Charter is paying a business visit at William's Lake, B.C., and vicinity.

Sam Hamilton, a former Oyen resident of 15-16, was a town visitor last Saturday.

Last Thursday brought a welcome end to the two-weeks' cold spell, during which the thermometer dropped many degrees below zero.

Mrs. C. L. Dunford and son Warren, who have been spending the past week in Calgary, visiting Miss D. S. Dunford, returned to Oyen yesterday.

John F. Miller, eye-sight specialist, of 404 Underwood Block, Calgary, will be in Oyen on Saturday, November 22. Special prices for this visit. Take advantage of reduction in prices.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Guthrie moved into their own home on First Avenue East on Monday. Since their return to Oyen, they have been residing in the Stillings home on Main Street.

A farewell dance was held in Springfield hall on Friday, November 14, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. D. McQuarrie and Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Holden. The former are going to try farming in the vicinity of Calgary, while Mr. and Mrs. Holden are going to spend the winter months in England. There was an attendance of about sixty. The evening was thoroughly enjoyed by all.

LANFINE LOCALS

In spite of a cold day there was a good attendance at the last regular meeting of the Lanfine W.I. The main business was the completion of plans for the winter fair, which is to be held on Friday of this week. An interesting time was spent in arranging for the different side-shows, booths, etc. The ladies are much elated over the fine showing that will be made by their work.

Don't forget that they are going to elect a mayor at the fair. Some of the planks in the candidates' platform are: B. Halpy, "Deportation of all Scotch—except in bottles." W. M. Sanders, "Running for his life." W. M. Culp, "That Lanfine Control Its Own Street Railways and Electric Light System." John Sanders, "Dependent of Women's Institute." F. Lamby, "Better Conditions for the Poor." A. L. Ordie, "Independent of Women's Institute." The election closes on the evening of the fair. See that your favorite candidate is elected. Buy some votes.

At the special school meeting of Glenavon, Mr. P. W. Nichols was elected trustee, in place of Mr. J. Y. Watson.

A large number of Lanfine citizens attended the fowl supper at Kirkwray. A good time was reported.

Rev. C. R. Corcoran will in future hold Sunday services in different homes until the weather is warmer, and the hall can be used.

Don't forget the Winter Fair, Friday, November 21. Gates open at 5 p.m. Admission 5 cents. Special features: Baby show, merry-go-round, movie, darkie subjects, and election of mayor. The Lanfinettes hope you have a strongly developed sense of duty and civic pride, and come and enjoy the fun. Concert at close of fair.

G.G.T. BANQUET

The annual Mothers' and Daughters' Banquet of the Canadian Girls in Training, recently held in the Union Church, proved a most enjoyable function. After a sumptuous feast, toasts were given as follows: "To Our King and Country," proposed by Anna Mitchell and responded to by the singing of the National Anthem. "To Our Church," proposed by Rev. C. R. Corcoran, and responded to by singing "The Church's One Foundation." "To Our Mothers and Honored Guests," proposed by Maxine Sutherland and responded to by Mrs. C. S. Wright. Gladys McDermid proposed a toast to "Our Merry Meeting."

Mrs. Wright was presented with a small token from the girls, of whom she was formerly leader.

The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in competitions, games and sing-songs.

NEW OIL STRIKE

It is reported that one of our illustrious farmers of Glenada district has made a discovery that has all the earmarks of a genuine oil proposition. It appears that while thawing out his pump, during the recent cold snap, some of the burning straw fell to the bottom of the well, when it immediately burned up with such intensity that it "licked-up" the wet cribbing like so much tissue paper.

This farmer is sure wise to the ways of the big oil men, says our correspondent, for when they make a strike the hole is filled and capped so as to keep it quiet until the proper time and so it is in this case, for the well is all caved in and filled with gravel and rocks.

It is reported that about 16,000 acres (more or less) have already been leased and the rush is still on, and some of the big operators have already seen over the ground. It is pronounced that at the first hook of the wild geese in the spring, trainloads of material will be rolling into Oyen. Derrick will be springing up like mushrooms over night, and this black gold will be running down the road into Oyen without even so much as a pipe line. Hurrah, for Glenada.

FOUR TRAGEDIES

A man struck a match to see if the gasoline tank was empty. It wasn't. Another man touched a high voltage transmission wire to see if it was alive. It was. A man jumped out of a boat to see if he could swim. He couldn't. A man cut out his advertisement to see if he could make more money. He didn't.
